COMPETENCE DEVELOPMENT FOR MEMBER YOUTH SERVICES

AWARDING BODIES

- Quality and Qualifications Ireland (QQI) makes awards in further and higher education and training
- SEC - State Examinations Commission (Department of Education and Skills)
- Institutes of Technology
- Universities

AWARDS IN THE FRAMEWORK

There are four classes of award in the National Framework of Qualifications:

- Major Awards: named in the outer rings, are the principal class of awards made at a level
- ▲ Minor Awards: are for partial completion of the outcomes for a Major Award
- Supplemental Awards: are for learning that is additional to a Major Award
- ◆ Special Purpose Awards: are for relatively narrow or purpose-specific achievement

Youth Work Qualifications are in demand and we observe challenges and gaps in expertise which are recurring challenges in the Irish Youth Work Sector.

The Youth Work Ireland Member Services have analysed the needs for Youth Work Practice Training minimum standards and we offer a QQI 5 award in Youth Work which is practised the “Youth Work Ireland Way”.

The Youth Work Ireland Way - is upholding the Integrated Youth Service Model. The organisation set out in its 2011 paper its vision on this model of delivery. In 2020, Youth Work Ireland commissioned Just Economics Research Limited, to carry out a robust independent evaluation of the Integrated Youth Services Model which concluded that integrated working yields substantial benefits for young people.

The Youth Work Ireland Integrated Youth Service Model is consistent with international best practice on integrated youth work and based on a shared ethos with the international standard in youth work commonly referred to as positive youth development (PYD). The main feature of the approach is that it offers a suite of services both locally and regionally that young people can access on a needs basis at different points in their transition to adulthood.

This speaks loudly to the skills required for youth workers in our services. We observe the qualifications of candidates in the labour market which often are not specifically in Youth Work. We value staff education, life experience and work experience and endeavours to standardise youth work practice that is fitting with our model of work in the Member Youth Services.
